The Winning Ticket.

The Republican County Convention yesterday placed in the field a winning ticket. None of the nominees need any introduction to the general public. They are well known as citizens, and the most of them have a record as officials.

J. F. Emmitt, who will be the next Senator, and who will assist in electing a successor to Senator Jones, was one of Washoe county's most popular Sheriffs, and against whom naught can be said in his disfavor, and as a Senator he will make a record that will give Washoe county a recognition that its importance demands.

William Thompson, H. H. Beck and T. G. Herman will represent us in the Assembly. Each is among our oldest citizens. Both Thompson and Beck have served the county in the Legislative Hall, and like Mr. Herman, represent large property interests and are all three greatly interested in Nevada's material interest, and they now will put themselves to work in devising means which look toward placing our new fair grounds on a sound financial basis, and the other State institution located here on a footing that will add to their future prosperity and practical usefulness.

The candidate for Sheriff, Jack Fraser, is a man than whom none stands higher for probity of character, and his extended acquaintance and known popularity is a guarantee that he will succeed the present incumbent as Sheriff.

The GAZETTE assured the public at the time D. Allen's name was announced as a candidate, that if nominated and elected the duties of the dual office of District Attorney and County Superintendent of Schools would be entrusted to safe hands, and the GAZETTE now reaffirms what it then said.

All know what an efficient officer T. V. Julien has been as Clerk. So strong was he that none dare enter the field against him, hence his re-nomination was by acclamation.

Such a faithful guardian of the Treasury is Dan Boyd that he had a walk-over, and for another two years will carry the keys to the vault of the county.

It will be remembered that two years ago C. O. Porter entered the contest for the office of Recorder. He made a valiant fight, and would have made a superior officer had he won. The nomination was forced upon him and now it is the duty of all square Republicans to see that he graces the office, for which he is so well qualified.

T. K. Hymers and William Merrill will continue to look after the financial affairs of the county. They have proved themselves good officials and worthy of the confidence of the taxpayers, who are always sensitive and heard from if the affairs in the Commissioners' office are not satisfactory.

J. V. Peers, who cannot be charged with the crime of being a youth, for the next two years will receive the emoluments of the office of Public Administrator.

Judge Young will add another term to his long service as Justice of the Peace. Coming out first best with the array of most excellent men who were pitted against him is an endorsement which will be appreciated by the people.

S. W. Upon carried off the constabulary prize. So prompt and watchful has he been of the public peace that he out-distanced a most worthy competitor.

W. H. Gould will be the long term School Trustee and Dr. J. A. Lewis the short term. Both these gentlemen are worthy of the position to which they aspire.

All in all, the nominations are strong ones and those who sought positions and did not get them accept the situation gracefully. With the harmony now existing in the Republican ranks the full ticket should be elected and not a nominee permitted to fall by the wayside.

Bayard Explains.

Secretary Bayard, through his Assistant Secretary, has written a letter "explaining" why the Chinese treaty has not been ratified. In this communication Mr. Bayard touches the topmost pinnacle of diplomacy for the reserve which characterizes its expressions is simply polar. According to the distinguished author of the epistle, the delay arises "from causes beyond the control of the Department of State." Most everybody knew that; the only trouble the people find with the Department of State is that it was fool enough to enter into treaty negotiations at all. It must be insisted, however, that to say the delay arises from causes beyond the control of the State Department is unsatisfactory. What the people want to know is when the messenger boy from the State Department will reach the Imperial Eye of God of the Flowery Kingdom, and if he has reached him, what did the Eye say about it?

The swivel-eyed statesman, Benjamin F. Butler, has no axes of his own to grind this year, and though a Democrat, he is not a bigoted one. He has been talking to large audiences in Boston upon tariff and the fisheries, and from the knowledge gained in a political career extending over some forty years, he avers that the protective tariff has been, and is, the salvation of our nation. In other matters as well he sees behind the thin screen of denial which the President raises to hide his true meaning and objects. Says Mr. Butler: "The President declares himself not to be a free trader, but I must confess that he seems to try to get as near being a free trader as he can." Right you are!

The Democratic party has at last taken the road and struck its gait. To those distinguished political economists, Tarpey and English, is assigned the duty of enlightening California upon the subject of the tariff, while to those equally distinguished sand lotters, Kearney and Maybell, is entrusted the task of explaining the Chinese question to the intelligent voters of this coast. There is no reason why the party should give way to such utter despondency and despair as these facts would indicate, unless they are quite sure that they cannot get C. C. O'Donnell to join the procession with a dead leper.

MR. CLEVELAND'S hind sight is remarkably clear. As ex parte facto prophet he has few equals. He is now pretending to discover that England is not running the United States. If he had made the discovery at the beginning of his administration instead of now when it is drawing to a swift and unregretted close, it would have made some considerable difference in the nation's judgment of the man. By way of example he would not be disgraced by his present position after his one-term declarations.

AFTER spending three solid months in perfecting a bill that would reduce the "surplus" seventy-five millions, the Democrats of the House, with Mr. Mills at the head of the procession, are notified by Speaker Carlisle that if the bill should pass and the performance should turn out as advertised in the posters, there would be a deficiency next June of about sixty-three millions. It is sad—very sad, but it is a fine specimen of Democratic functioning.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

The Infanta Eulalia, the youngest sister of King Alfonso, has been declared consumptive and has been ordered to the mountains in the North of Italy.

A Cairo letter to the Cologne Gazette ridicules the idea about a "White Flag" in the Red Sea, and says the reports are the inventions of Mecca pilgrims.

Charles Bradlaugh announces that he is still bound in debt, and that unless he can extricate himself with his pen and by lecturing, he will be compelled to withdraw from Parliament.

Count Andrassy is dying of disease of the kidneys. He was in his day one of the greatest of European diplomats and would have been the equal of Bismarck had he had a master like William I.

The Wendish nationality in Prussia and Saxony is reported to be rapidly declining in strength, and before long the last remnants of a Sclavic race, so powerful a thousand years ago, will have become Germanized.

Dr. Richardson, the eminent London physician, says that the death rate is the smallest in European cities where Sunday is a day of rest, and the largest where the day is given up to drinking, amusements and rioting.

In many parts of Great Britain it is customary to remove hives of bees from farms to the mountains in the month of August so as to give the bees an opportunity to collect honey from flowers that blossom late in the season.

More Clydesdale horses have been exported from Scotland this year than during any previous season. About an equal number was sent to the United States and Canada. A large number was sent to South America and to Australia.

CHINESE RESTRICTION.

A Sweeping Measure to Exclude Mongolian Laborers.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Representative Scott of Pennsylvania this morning, after an interview with the President, came to the Capitol and had a brief interview with Speaker Carlisle. Immediately after the reading of the Journal Scott was recognized by the Speaker and asked unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the following bill:

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., that from and after the passage of this Act it shall be unlawful for any Chinese laborers who shall at any time heretofore have been, or who may now or hereafter be, a resident within the United States, and who shall have departed or shall depart therefrom, and shall not have returned before the passage of this Act, to return to or remain in the United States.

Sec. 2. That the certificate of identity provided for in Sections 4 and 5 of the Act, to which this is a supplement, shall not hereafter be issued, and every certificate heretofore issued in pursuance thereof is hereby declared void and of no effect, and the Chinese laborer claiming admission by virtue thereof shall not be permitted to enter the United States.

Sec. 3. That all duties prescribed, liabilities, penalties and forfeitures imposed and powers conferred in Sections 2, 10, 11 and 12 of the Act, to which this is supplementary, are hereby extended and made applicable to the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 4. All such part or parts of the Act, to which this is supplementary, as are inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

There was no objection to the consideration of the bill, and without a word of debate it was passed without a division.

The introduction and passage of the bill was a complete surprise. It is still announced at the State Department that no official information has been received of the rejection of the new treaty by China, but the Administration is evidently convinced that the news is true, and in order to head off the introduction of any bill by Republican Congressmen on the subject, and to score a political advantage on the Pacific Coast, Scott sprung his bill at the earliest opportunity. Heretofore the President and Bayard have strenuously opposed any legislation in conflict with existing treaty stipulations; now Cleveland makes a complete flop on the Chinese question as he did on the Fisheries.

CANADA DEFIANT.

Belief that the Dominion Will Allow the United States to "Go Ahead."

OTTAWA, September 4.—Sir John Macdonald arrived this morning and a Cabinet meeting will be held to consider Cleveland's message of retaliation. It is predicted that the result of the conference will be that Canada will decide to let the United States go ahead and refuse to allow goods destined for the Dominion to pass through without the payment of duty. The Cabinet appears to hope that the United States will instruct retaliatory proceedings, as it would result in Halifax and St. John, N. B., becoming more important seaports than at present and compel the Canadians to ship goods through Canadian territory over Canadian railroads and build up Canadian business.

A JOURNALIST'S OPINION.

LONDON, September 3.—The Times says: Canada may certainly reckon that reprisals affecting transportation in bond will arouse a great clamor among the large population dependent upon the prosperity of certain American roads. Retaliation will likely enough be wrecked upon some such rock as this, without the Canadians lifting a hand against it.

Major Reno in Trouble.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 4.—Major Marcus A. Reno, the famous Indian fighter, was arrested last night on a charge of non-main-tenance, preferred by his wife.

Major Reno was on the plains with General Custer at the time of the massacre. It has been charged that Reno, through cowardice or lack of discretion, did not bring Custer the aid he needed, and was out of harm's way when the Indians surrounded Custer's command. Reno has been out of the army nearly ever since.

In an interview, published in a New York paper, he assailed the conduct of Custer and belittled that officer's courage. As a result, the newspapers all over the country denounced him. Despite all those matters he is genial socially and makes friends easily.

LIVELY SCENES.

A Sensational Eviction Ousts on Charitable's Estate, Ireland. DUBLIN, September 3.—Lord Clanricarde's evictors yesterday attacked a tenant named Tully, at Cloncess-Facug-Schmon. A deep trench had been dug around the building by the occupants and the house had been banked to the roof with clay. Stones, slates and trees had also been sunk in the ground parallel with the walls. The evictors advanced with a battering ram to break down these obstructions but were beaten off by the defenders, who fired volleys of stones and poured boiling liquid over their assailants, compelling them to frequently retreat. Some Constables, in obedience to orders, tried to effect an entrance through the roof. Many of these were hurled into the ditch by the defenders, who captured a number of rifles and an officer's sword. Finally, after an hour and a half of hard fighting, the police succeeded in taking possession of the house and capturing the occupants.

AN AWFUL FIRE.

Seven Men Killed—The Loss Nearly Two Millions.

BAITMORE, Sept. 3.—Yesterday morning fire broke out in a large toy warehouse, and an explosion of fireworks caused the fire to spread to an adjoining drug store. While the firemen were in the latter, the building collapsed and eight men were buried in the debris and all lost their lives but one, who managed to crawl out and thus escaped death. The groans of the others as they were slowly roasted to death were horrible to hear. The firemen devoted all their attention to the imprisoned men, thus allowing the fire to spread until about nine large establishments were destroyed, causing a loss of about $1,500,000; insurance, about $800,000.

The names of the men killed are: George Bowers, Perry Ryan, Thomas Wagner, John Coombs, Harry Walker, George Kernes and Hiram McAffee. All the bodies have not yet been recovered. Those that were taken out were horribly burned and disfigured. All the victims were men of families.

A Fatal Leap.

PETALUMA, September 4.—P. J. Diamond, a young man living in this city, while jumping from a train yesterday afternoon as it passed the depot was thrown violently against a water tank and had his head so badly crushed that he died last night.

Judge Haunah then fixed September 21st as the day for the execution, between the hours of 12 and 4 p. m. Elliott had a very serious and careworn expression. No bill of exceptions or appeal to the Supreme Court has yet been filed, but doubtless will be.

THE JEWISH HOLIDAYS.

Rosh Ashona and Yomkippur—The Hebrew New Year.

To-morrow evening our citizens of the Jewish faith will close their places of business at sunset for the observance of the Hebrew New Year. It is one of the most solemn festivals on the Hebrew calendar, and is observed two days in the orthodox and one day in the reformed synagogues. According to the orthodox usage the festival will therefore last over Thursday and Friday, and business will be entirely suspended by the observers during that time until dark Friday night. Saturday being the Jewish Sabbath day the suspension of business will continue throughout Europe among the orthodox Jews until dark on Saturday night. The majority of the Jews in Reno will observe the festival only one day, opening their places of business at dark on Thursday night. This festival is observed in solemn prayer and asking forgiveness of the Almighty for all sins that the supplicants have committed during the year. It will be followed, on Saturday next, by Yomkippur, the Day of Atonement, which will be observed by fasting and prayer, commencing on Friday evening at sunset and ending at dark on the night following. This fasting means total abstinence from all manner of food and liquids, not even the taste of a single drop of water being allowed.

A LIVELY RUMPUS.

SARAH ALTHEA AND TERRY CREATE A SCENE.

Justice Field Accused of Bribe-taking—The Notorious Couple Jailed.

The Sacramento Bee of yesterday contains the following graphic account of a sensational scene which occurred yesterday in the United States Circuit Court in San Francisco:

Justice Field rendered a lengthy decision in the United States Circuit Court this morning on the bill of revision in the Sharon case. The opinion was concurred in by Judges Sawyer and Sabin. Judge Sawyer's previous decision, declaring the marriage contract a forgery, is sustained, and the trustees, under the deed of trust executed by William Sharon, are given the right to handle the property untrammelled by actions on the part of Sarah Althea.

While Judge Field was reading his decision Mrs. Terry interrupted him frequently, and he ordered that she be taken into custody. This so enraged Judge Terry that he drew a knife and attempted to defend his wife. He was finally overpowered and both Judge Terry and Sarah Althea are now in the custody of the Marshal.

When Justice Field was half through reading the decision, Mrs. Terry, jumping to her feet, thumped the table in front of her, and in a rage said: "Justice Field, are you going to order me to give up that marriage contract, to be cancelled?"

Justice Field looked up from his paper, stopped and looked at her, first carefully reading his glasses. He saw that she was thoroughly aroused and ready for any desperate deed.

"Sit down, Madam," said Justice Field after a moment's hesitation. "A deathlike stillness prevailed, but in a moment it was broken by Mrs. Terry. 'Justice Field,' she screamed, her face white with passion, 'we hear that you have been bought! We would like to know if that is so and what figures do you hold yourself at. It seems that no person can get justice in this Court unless he has a sack. We want to know, I say, what you have been paid by the Sharon people?'"

By this time Mrs. Terry was in such a state that she would hardly recognize her features. "Marshal," said Justice Field, somewhat louder than usual, "remove that woman from the Court room. The Court will deal with her later."

At this Mrs. Terry broke out with a horrible string of oaths. Marshal Franks advanced toward her, but she took no notice of him, and facing the four Judges, cursed them. Judge Terry, seeing Marshal Franks approach his wife, rose to his feet and stood erect. His eyes glittered and he looked from Franks to his wife.

Franks grasped Mrs. Terry by the arm while she was still talking. In an instant Terry spoke. "By God!" he exclaimed, "no living man shall touch her. She is my wife and I will kill the man who lays a hand on her." With this he dealt Franks a terrible blow with his right fist. Franks was struck fairly on the neck and was sent spinning for six or eight feet, and finally landed among a lot of chairs.

Terry stood still for a moment and then, Franks, Henry Finnegan, Deputy Donnelly, Deputy Ferrish and two or three bystanders made a rush on him. The seized him and Mrs. Terry and quickly hustled her out of the room. Terry followed her at once. She was taken into the back office of the United States Marshal and had hardly passed within the doors when Terry appeared.

"I want to get in," he said, looking down on Deputy Ferrish, who was at the door on guard. "You cannot get in," was Ferrish's answer, backed up by Franks. Terry passed his hand to his pocket and in a second a dangerous looking dirk knife eight inches long flashed over his eyes, rose to his feet and stood erect. His eyes glittered and he looked from Franks to his wife.

THE TOWNSHIP NOMINES.

Judge Young and Constable Upson Renominated—Gould and Lewis for School Trustees.

The Reno delegation to the Republican County Convention met in Armory hall last evening for the purpose of nominating a Justice of the Peace, a Constable and a Long Term and Short Term School Trustee. By general consent the officers of the Convention proper acted as officers of the Convention.

On motion of S. J. Hodgkinson the Convention proceeded to nominate township officers.

Mike Holland placed W. H. Young, the present incumbent, in nomination for Justice of the Peace.

Dr. A. Dawson nominated Captain C. A. Bragg.

William Thompson nominated C. W. Jones.

S. J. Hodgkinson nominated L. L. Crockett.

General Orlando Evans nominated John Bowman.

R. H. Lindsay seconded the nomination of W. H. Young.

Balloting resulted as follows:

First ballot—Young 20, Bragg 8, Jones 5, Crockett 13, Bowman 9, blank 1.

Second ballot—Young 26, Bragg 4, Jones 6, Crockett 13, Bowman 8.

Third ballot—Young 34, Bragg 1, Jones 3, Crockett 10, Bowman 9.

Judge Young having received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared the nominee for Justice of the Peace.

For Constable, the battle was short and decisive. William Coughlin placed in nomination the present incumbent, S. W. Upson, and Captain C. A. Bragg entered John Douglas for the race. But one ballot was necessary to decide the contest, Upson being the victor by 14 votes, he having received 35 votes and his opponent 22.

For School Trustee (long term) W. H. Gould was placed in nomination by S. J. Hodgkinson, and on motion Mr. Gould was declared the unanimous choice of the Convention.

For School Trustee (short term) C. M. Fessett nominated George H. Taylor. Mr. Taylor declined.

C. C. Fowning nominated Dr. John A. Lewis.

Sol Levy nominated General Orlando Evans.

There being no other candidates, balloting was proceeded with, and resulted as follows: Evans, 13; Lewis, 34.

HAMPTON'S REMAINS.

The funeral to take place to-morrow in Virginia City.

The remains of the late J. C. Hampton passed through Reno this morning en route to Virginia City, under escort of Knights Templar of De Witt Clinton Commandery No. 1, of which organization deceased was a Past Eminent Commander.

Upon their arrival in Virginia City the remains will be taken to the Masonic hall where they will lie in state to-morrow from 10 o'clock until 2:30 o'clock, at which hour the funeral will take place. The cortege will be headed by De Witt Clinton Commandery No. 1, in full regalia, and will be, it is said, one of the most impressive ever seen in the State. A large delegation from Reno, Carson and other towns in the western part of the State are expected to take part in the last sad rites.

The Fall Term of this institution will commence to-morrow at 9 o'clock a. m., with all the professors present to take charge of their different departments, which now consist of four principal and one auxiliary, and all under the supervision of President Leroy D. Brown.

The public exercises will take place at 2 o'clock p. m., and will consist simply of a greeting to the friends and visitors present, and brief remarks by the State officials and members of the faculty.

A rival of Bishop.

Dr. J. L. Meyer, who claims to have successfully competed against the leading mind readers of the world and also rivalled Bishop in mind or muscle reading, will give a course of three lectures or entertainments at McKisick's Opera House, commencing Thursday evening. Admission twenty-five cents.

An Indignation Meeting.

The Carson Tribune says it is proposed to call an indignation meeting in every town in Western Nevada and to frame a petition to Congress asking for relief against the Central Pacific railroad in the matter of non-delivery of mails on vacation time. The election of mail matter has become unbearable, and is really injurious to business men in this part of the State.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience, is Electric Bitter. Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver or blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store."

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were so undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus wrote W. C. Hamrick & Co. of Shelby, N. C.—Get a trial bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

Senator Sewell says New Jersey will give 5,000 Republican majority.

CONVENTION ECHOES.

With Messrs. Beck, Thompson and Herman in the Assembly and Frank Emmitt in the Senate, Washoe's interests will not suffer for lack of attention and work in the next Legislature.

By an oversight yesterday on the part of the Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business the Republican County Convention failed to make a nomination for the office of County Surveyor. The County Central Committee will correct the mistake.

The action of the Convention in adding the nomination of an Assessor to the Order of Business and its subsequently being left for the County Central Committee to dispose of, has occasioned some alarm in the mind of Assessor Stoddard. He says if he is ousted that seven or eight Republican County Assessors will accompany him.

The withdrawal of William Thompson from the Senatorial fight was a surprise to the Convention. Mr. Thompson proposed it himself, and did it in the interest of harmony. That his course will be appreciated by the people of Washoe county there can be no doubt, and the GAZETTE predicts his election to the Assembly by a routing majority.

The most surprised man in town last night was W. M. Havenor, the defeated candidate for the nomination for Sheriff. He has been led to believe that he was the only aspirant for the position, and when Jack Fraser's name was placed in nomination he was surprised, but when he was defeated by a vote of 50 to 45 he was, in the language of a friend, paralyzed.

Considerable surprise was manifested by the delegates yesterday on account of the frequent appearance in the ballot box (a hat) of a blank ballot, and many were the conjectures as to the identity of the high-headed individual who deposited it. The delegate finally gave himself away when the balloting for Justice of the Peace was in progress last evening. As he deposited his ballot he was heard to murmur that he was getting tired of voting a blank all day, and when the ballots were counted it was found that he had summoned up enough courage to commit himself.

In last evening's issue the names of L. L. Crockett, C. W. Jones and John Bowman were omitted from the list of candidates for the nomination of Justice of the Peace, but no slight was intended to either of the gentlemen. To Messrs. Crockett and Jones the GAZETTE expresses its regret that their names were not mentioned, but to Mr. Bowman it has no apology to make. That gentleman evidently feels very much aggrieved over the omission of his name, and stated to-day that his omission was for a purpose. He also volunteered the information that he did not patronize either the GAZETTE or the Journal any more than he could possibly help because they were not reliable. Mr. Bowman has a perfect right to withhold his support from the paper named, and the GAZETTE has no desire to force him into yielding up his beloved shillings, but it is thankful for one thing. It has at last found out the reason why it has been compelled to rustle in order

The value of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, in the protection it affords from the dangers of pulmonary disorders, cannot be over-estimated. Mr. C. K. Mr. Henry Russell, Excelsior Printing Co., New York, writes: "Influenza became epidemic in my neighborhood. Too much cannot be said in its favor."

E. M. Sargent, 41 Andover st., Lowell, Mass., says: "I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral about the year 1842, as a family medicine, for Coughs and Colds, and have always kept it in my house since that time. I consider it the best remedy that can be had for these complaints." Dr. J. B. Robertson, Clayton, N. C., writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family and practice, for a number of years, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is an admirable preparation, and well-qualified to do all that is claimed for it." E. J. Stiers, Germantown, N. C., writes: "Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best Cough preparation I ever saw. It gives instant relief."

DOGS WITH THIN SKULLS.

The Head of a Wolf and of an Indian Dog Nearly the Same.

A bleached and ghastly object was being handled recently by Mr. Frederick A. Lucas, the osteologist at the National Museum here. He had taken it from a coffin-like box, and explained to two or three persons that it was the skull of an Equimux sled dog.

"This skull," said Mr. Lucas, "bears out the stories of the rough treatment which these dogs receive. See there," pointing to a spot over the eye, where a portion of the bone had been broken off, "it took a heavy blow to do that; and look at this leg," continued the bone man, taking several long bones from the box and deftly putting them together. "You see that leg was broken and was never allowed to heal perfectly. That dog had to limp along very painfully after he was injured. See how this joint was deformed and how it must have creaked," he continued, working one of the bones against the other like a pump-handle, to show the defect in the joint.

Mr. Lucas stopped in front of a case wherein were displayed a series of skulls arranged in a row for comparison. The labels showed that two skulls in the upper row, beginning on the right, were those of Indian dogs; next to them was that of an Egyptian mummied dog, and then in order the skulls of a Newfoundland, of a common dog, a hairless Chinese dog, a Laverack setter, a Saint Bernard, a bulldog, and an English pug. In another row below was a series of skulls of wild dogs—wolves, coyotes, and foxes.

"This series will show," said Mr. Lucas, "the effect of domestication. The development of the cranium, under domestication. The skull of the Indian dog there, you see, differs very little from that of the wolf below it. You see it has very little forehead and a very long jaw. As you go along, now," he continued, "you will find the facial angle increases, the forehead is developed at the expense of the jaw, which becomes shorter. This collection gives merely an outline. There are many intermediate steps. Dogs are classified into mastiffs, hounds, spaniels, and wolf dogs. The wolf dogs, such as these," continued Mr. Lucas, pointing to the Indian dogs and the Egyptian dogs, "are nearest the original stock. In fact, it is very difficult sometimes to distinguish the skull of a wolf from that of an Indian dog. Yes, the teeth are the same, and you will notice all along the line there is a similarity in the teeth. When you reach the pug, at the end, the teeth are crowded and the incisors lap over. Then the teeth of the pug are not so large or strong. It has been raised on soft food, and has not had to rend or tear its prey. As you go up the scale the intelligence of the dogs increases, and as you go down, towards the wolf, the animals increase in brute ferocity. Yes, the bulldog has a high forehead," observed Mr. Lucas, in reply to a remark of the reporter, expressing surprise that an animal which served in literature as a type of brute ferocity should stand so well up in the scale of cranial development. "It has a high forehead, and will become very much attached to its master. It is renowned for its courage, and will fly at the head and hang on. Any dog may be taught to attack a man."
